

Announcement of Rajamangala University of Technology Lanna, Chiang Mai
On Teaching Management Guidelines
Due to the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) Outbreak
Semester 1/2022

.....

As the pandemic situation of the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) is currently improving, and in order to effectively provide a teaching management for Semester 1/2022 of Rajamangala University of Technology Lanna Chiang Mai, by virtue of Sections 24 and 27 of the Rajamangala University of Technology Act BE 2548, in conjunction with the Order of Rajamangala University of Technology Lanna regarding the Appointing of the Vice President to perform official duties on the President's behalf No. 1457/2564 dated 27 December, 2021 and the resolution of the RMUTL COVID-19 Committee to operate the University under measures to prevent, monitor and control the pandemic meeting on 17 May, 2022, therefore, the University deems it appropriate to announce Teaching Management Guidelines for Semester 1/2022 that is suitable for the current improving situation of COVID-19 as follows:

Section 1. Both theoretical and practical courses shall be conducted in the classroom (on-site) according to standard procedures. In this regard, lecturers must take into consideration the suitability of the classroom, the number of students, arrangement of seating area at a minimum distance of 1 meter between students with a clear symbol indicating the distance, and strictly adhering to the measures outlined in the attachment to prevent the spread of disease.

Section 2. The lecturer must conduct the midterm examination and final examination in the classrooms, in accordance with Rajamangala University of Technology Lanna's Academic Calendar for Academic Year 2022, for Diploma, Undergraduate and Postgraduate Students. In case that the teaching or examination cannot be held in a normal setting, the Dean/Director should consider the suitability of the teaching and learning management model on a case-by-case basis.

Section 3. The examination for the comprehensive examination, qualification exam, Thesis Examination, or Independent Study for graduate students shall be determined by the lecturers.

Announced on May, 2022.

(Assoc.Prof.Dr.Teerasak Urajananon)
Vice President for Academic and Student Affairs
Rajamangala University of Technology Lanna