Vision and Mission

Vision Mission

Vision

Being an Internationally standardized excellent and competitive Islamic University

Mission

- Providing an excellent and competitive education in multidisciplinary Islamic studies, science, & technology
- Conducting research that are relevant to the community's needs in Islamic studies, science, and technology
- Strengthening a community-based religious university-community

Rector's
Welcoming
Speech

Welcome to UIN Sunan Ampel Surabaya, one of the oldest Islamic universities in Indonesia. The inspiration behind the name of the university, Sunan Ampel, was derived from the eldest member of Indonesia's legendary "Nine Muslim Saints" (Walisanga), Sunan Ampel. He is widely credited with peacefully transforming Islam throughout Java and across of the country. Accordingly, the university has made it their commitment to promote moderate Islam, the Indonesian Islam. The main value in developing our academic tradition and sociocultural change is the application of harmony with culture, respect for local knowledge and wisdom and community-based engagement.

The institution offers an integrated curriculum that combines Islamic courses with secular sciences and humanities using the "integrated twin-towers" paradigm. Our university offers 60 study programs ranging from undergraduate to postgraduate studies, placing it in a good position to fulfil international standards and serve a global audience. We are also highly committed and are nationally recognized for best practices in university-community engagement through the integrated tridharma.

UINSA is a great place for those who strive to be the best and are willing to give the best for the nation, umma and to the world. You have made a great choice, welcome!

Your role and contribution are welcomed, appreciated and nourished not only in class and hall, but also in various organisations and communities. We are certain that we are the finest option for people interested in studying an integrated curriculum that serves as a practical solution to the world's contemporary problems.

I quoted the statement from Winston Churchill, "We choose to go to the moon in this decade and do other things because they are difficult, not because they are easy." A strong message for all of us. Particularly to the international students, Imam Shafi'i has encouraged us to go wander in quest for learning and be the best by struggling. Don't be afraid to take on challenging tasks. Feel the satisfaction of pushing yourself and breaking free from the constraints of proximity. With your support, university will serve as the high commissioners for the generations that will be required to take on challenging and complex problems that lie ahead.

Thank you, and welcome to UIN Sunan Ampel Surabaya.

Surabaya

Surabaya

Welcome to the City of Heroes!

Surabaya, Indonesia's second largest city and one of the most renowned historical cities, offers a pleasant mix of historical and modern sites to visit. Historically, Surabaya was a city where the people fought an uphill battle against the Dutch and allied forces during World War II, culminating in the people of Surabaya's victory over the allied forces. This incident becomes one of Indonesia's national holidays, called 'Hari Pahlawan' (the Day of Heroes), and Surabaya is named "Kota Pahlawan (City of Heroes). The history of this conflict can be traced back to several historical locations, including Jembatan Merah (Red Bridge), the Orange Hotel (Hotel Majapahit), and Tunjungan Street. Surabaya now has every amenity a metropolitan city can offer for a comfortable lifestyle as a result of the city's development. Tunjungan Street, located in the city center, is home to several international-class hotels, some of which feature Javanese architecture. Among the numerous large plazas, there is an eight-story Plaza Tunjungan that serves as a one-stop shop for all necessities. Numerous large apartments also provide an easy way to stay in Surabaya. Convenience with various modes of transport supported by an international airport, train station, 24-hour interprovincial bus station, and various other public transports makes Surabaya's population very dynamic and mobile. The city never sleeps because of the lights from the shopping centers and the lights from the vehicles people use at night. Even at night, people are still active, which is a characteristic of a metropolitan city. Regardless of this, the people are friendly and respect Javanese and Islamic culture. Surabaya is also known as the city of the trees. Along the main roads, there are large trees. Additionally, there are numerous botanical gardens and nurseries. Being in a tropical country, Surabaya is always warm from the sun but with a humid climate. With all of its facilities and conveniences, the glistening city of Surabaya is an ideal location for not only staying but also studying. Additionally, keep in mind that UINSA is one of the largest universities in the city.
